➤ "All are Caring" Kermes Campaigning

With the words: "You will not attain righteousness till you spend in charity of the things you love."(C3,V92), ACDC has attended kermis which aimed to help needy people in Gaza.

As targeted so far, ACDC has been donating the profits to whom in need anywhere in the world. This time, ACDC has attended to a Kermis organized by IUHK (Islamic Union of Hong Kong) to help people in Gaza. The humanitarian tragedy is so obvious for the eyes of all.

When the outbreaks of armed clashes between the governments start, the effects were mostly on citizens including women and children. Heavy weaponries are being used in Gaza and tens of thousands of people lost their home and their lives.

➤ Tolerance, But From A Different Perspective (Essay on Dialogue)

In reading recent news about Gaza and Burma (among other places), I am very concerned about whether or not I should lose hope in humanity. I am desperately searching for places and spaces of humanity in the world around me. Is there any place where people live peacefully and trust each other? Is there any place where people treat people as people and appreciate each other's difference? Is there any place, after all, where tolerance is a practical reality of our contemporary life, a traffic light that guides the interests of people, who come from various backgrounds, yet deal with each other in respect? I am a Muslim, and my religion teaches me that tolerance is not something that we should be waiting accidentally to happen, but something that we should make an effort in order to achieve. But so does teach other religions. This is something that I have learned during the interfaith dialogue trip that was organized by the Anatolia Culture and Dialogue Center in collaboration with the HKU Center for Buddhist studies for its alumni in the summer of 2012. This article is about how I learned about this tolerance and why it is so relevant for the humanity today.
